

BCaBA Examination Pass Rates for University Training Programs

2025

Summary

The BACB publishes examination pass-rate data for university training programs to help prospective students understand one of the important outcomes associated with university training and professional preparation. Pass rates are historical outcomes; they are not rankings, endorsements, or guarantees of future or individual performance. Use pass rates together with core program features and outcomes, the number of graduates, prior-year results, current accreditation status, program cost and format, faculty and student supports, fieldwork opportunities, and other outcomes that matter to you.

The 2025 overall first-time pass rate was 60% for all candidates. 2025 was the first year the BCaBA examination was based on the BCaBA Test Content Outline \(6th ed.\). This report summarizes 2025 first-time BCaBA examination results by university training program. An individual applicant's data are included in the pass-rate data if they took the examination for the first time in 2025 and obtained a degree from an Association for Behavior Analysis International (ABAI)-accredited program or completed all of the Pathway 2 BCaBA coursework from a single behavior analysis training program. A university program is only included in this report if it had more than six first-time test takers in 2025.

This report does not include a complete list of universities with behavior-analytic programs. For a list of accredited programs, please visit the Association for Behavior Analysis International's website. For information about qualifying Pathway 2 coursework, please contact individual universities directly.
