

Considerations for Self-Reporting

Use this checklist to help determine if you should make a self-report to the BACB Ethics Department. Always refer to the BACB website to access and review the most current version of the RBT Ethics Code or the Professional and Ethical Compliance Code for Behavior Analysts. More guidance on self-reporting requirements and considerations can be found in the November 2016 and April 2017 BACB Newsletters. If you are a certificiant with a BACB required supervisor, consider consulting with them before submitting your self-report.

Gather and Prepare all Supporting Documentation

- ▶ Any documentation that includes protected or identifying information (e.g., client name, address, date of birth) must be redacted. This can be done by removing the information from an electronic document and replacing it with generic terms (e.g., NAME, GENDER, XX/XX/XX). This can also be done in electronic documents by highlighting the sensitive information in black or placing a black box over the information (e.g., name, date of birth, photographs). For hard copies of documents this can be done by using a marker or correction ink or tape to cover the sensitive information before scanning or taking a photo.
- ▶ All documents with sensitive information must be converted to PDFs.
- ▶ When taking screenshots of websites, emails, or text messages, it is best to validate the date/time of the screen shot by capturing the date/time on the screen.
- ▶ When taking screenshots of text messages, it must be clear when the text messages occurred and with whom the conversation occurred (e.g., the name of the individual should appear at the top of the screenshots).
- ▶ It is best to combine all supporting documentation into one PDF with page numbers and a table of contents, if possible. It is also best to name each separate piece of supporting documentation and link it to an alleged code violation.
