

The Integrity of the BACB® and its Certification Programs

Application Safeguards

Applicants for certification as a Board Certified Behavior Analyst® (BCBA®) must undergo rigorous review, including, but not limited to the following:

- Degree verification – submitted from the original source
- Coursework verification – directly identified on the transcripts
- Experience verification – subject to additional audit to ensure veracity of experience claimed
- Ethical verification – conducted via applicant reporting and independent verification against those currently sanctioned

Ongoing/Maintenance Safeguards

Certificants must demonstrate ongoing compliance with BACB maintenance and ethical requirements, including, but not limited to:

- Uploading proof of continuing education completion, which is subject to additional audit
- Reporting investigations, charges and sanctions
 - The BACB enforces an Ethical and Professional Compliance Code
 - The BACB provides a rigorous ethical enforcement and disciplinary process
 - The BACB publically reports certain sanctions on the BACB's website
 - The BACB collaborates with state regulators in handling ethical matters

Organizational Safeguards

- The BACB is committed to meeting best industry standards for credentialing of behavior analysts
 - Unlike other certification boards, the BACB was incorporated in 1998 to address the needs of state agencies in credentialing behavior analysts. Accordingly, the BACB received 501(c)(3) tax exempt status on the basis of the BACB's Lessening the Burden of Government
- The BACB's BCBA, BCaBA, and RBT credentials are all nationally accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies
- The BACB Board of Directors includes certificant-elected directors

Additional information

Additional information about the BACB is available at www.bacb.com

Additional information about the BACB's certificant data is available at www.bacb.com/bacb-certificant-data